L'album "Being With" est un dialogue entre la voix et le saxophone où la créativité et l'expression personnelle se côtoient et s'harmonisent. Une rencontre audacieuse entre Véronique Dubois, chanteuse lyrique d'origine Suisse et François Carrier, saxophoniste, compositeur et improvisateur.

"To listen to the music contained herein is to witness moments when the two sounds – Francois Carrier's horn and Véronique Dubois' voice – are indistinguishable from one another. When me becomes we. When the aims of the individual melt away, and the success of the pairing becomes of primary concern. Such moments are rare enough in human relations; musically they are a precious commodity indeed."
